Notice Regarding Cyberattack on U.S. Subsidiary

KYOEI STEEL LTD. (the "Company") hereby announces that it has confirmed that its U.S. consolidated subsidiary, Vinton Steel LLC ("Vinton Steel"), was subject to a cyberattack by a third party, as described below.

1. Background

On November 19, 2026 (Japan time), Vinton Steel detected a cyberattack by a third party targeting its systems.

In response to the incident, Vinton Steel is working with relevant authorities and external experts to take necessary measures to prevent further damage. It is also investigating the scope of the impact, whether any information has been leaked, and the cause of the incident.

2. Current Status

Vinton Steel experienced disruptions to access to its internal network and shared files. Currently, system recovery work is being carried out cautiously using backup data and other resources that have been confirmed to be secure.

The incident has had no direct impact on sales, product shipments, or plant operations, which have continued largely as usual since the incident occurred. The construction work related to the ongoing large-scale investment is also continuing, and no delays caused by the incident have been identified as of this time.

As of this time, no information leakage associated with the incident has been identified. Further details regarding the impact of the incident remain under investigation.

3. Impact on Financial Results

The Company is currently assessing the impact of this incident on the Company's consolidated financial results. The Company will promptly disclose any matters requiring disclosure as they arise.
